Workshop for English Language Teaching

A workshop for English Language teaching was conducted by Indiannica Learning Private Limited on 23rd November, 2017, at Hotel Parle International, Vile Parle (East), Mumbai.

The resource person was Maryann Vaisoha Ma'am, who is the author of titles 'MoonBeam' and 'The English Channel' series of textbooks. She is a training consultant for the British Council's English Partnership Programme.

This teacher training workshop was designed to aid teachers and introduce and enhance teaching techniques for teaching English. New approaches to teaching English Language were put forward to create a Learner-Centred Classroom and create a Collaborative Learning environment to cater to all the learners' needs, so as to foster natural development, creativity, problem solving skills, critical thinking skills and multiple intelligence in the learners.

A taste of different kinds of individual, paired and group interactional activities was given where teachers acted the part of learners and learnt and applied learning through actual experience of participating in the activities.

This workshop was an apt training programme for creating deep and long term learning in learners and the attending teachers learnt many new techniques of interactive teaching, which can be applied for primary and middle schools to make the teaching – learning process more effective.

The teachers who attended this workshop were Mrs. Anju Mahajan and Mrs. Kala Lakshminarayanan.
